

The Book of Esther

On Purim, we read the story of _____ Queen Esther, one of the adjective
bravest _____ in all Jewish history. This is her story:
plural noun
In _____, the capital of ancient Persia, King _____ city nonsense word wanted to choose a new queen, so he _____ed a beauty pageant to verb
help him decide. The winner was the Jewish orphan named Esther, and she was brought into his royal _____. Meanwhile, Esther's uncle, place
_____, refused to bow to Haman, the King's evil _____.
Jewish celebrity Job Haman was so _____, he decided to destroy all the Jews, and adjective
_____ Esther's uncle on a gallows. So he told the King that all
verb
the Jews were different, disobedient, and _____ ... and the King
adjective
agreed Haman could have them _____ed! Esther's uncle learned of
verb
the villain's _____, and told Esther she must convince the King noun
to spare the Jews. Gathering her courage and _____, she
noun
approached the King and _____ed him the truth— she wasn't only
verb
Persian, she was _____. Furious, the King _____ed adjective verb that Haman should hang on the _____ he had prepared for Esther's
noun
uncle...and that the Jews would be allowed to live in Persia with freedom and _____. ! To this day, we _____ Esther for her noun verb
bravery and read her amazing _____ on Purim.
noun

Purim Party!

My _____ has a Purim party every year!

place

I like to _____ up in different costumes. Sometimes, I'm the wicked,

verb

_____ Haman, sometimes a hero like _____.

adjective

Jewish celebrity

My little sister likes to go as Queen Esther, wearing a big gold _____

noun

on her head. When they read the book of Esther, I make a lot of _____

noun

at Haman's name by shaking a _____.

noun

_____ as loud as I can, over and over! I can't believe Haman would try to _____ all the Jews. Thank goodness Esther and her uncle

Hebrew word

verb

_____ were there to stop him! After the reading, the party

Jewish celebrity

_____! I stuff myself with yummy cookies called _____

verbs

silly word.

They have _____ corners and are filled with _____.

Number

food

Some say they look like Haman's hat, or maybe his _____

plural noun.

But they remind me of _____. The kids in my _____

plural noun

place

also put on a Purimshpiel play. They act out the story of _____ and holiday

make fun of everyone and everything. I laugh and _____ so hard, I fall

verb

off my _____! Have a happy, _____ Purim!

Noun

adjective